Alternatively, if you would like to complete a different project, related to another aspect of your learning, you can surprise your teacher with that instead.

Option 1:

Make a Mayan Pyramid

Using resources of your choice, make an Ancient Mayan Pyramid. You could even carry out further research to accompany your design.

Option 2:

PE – Basketball

Research a famous basketballer or basketball team. Present your findings as a biography or fact file.

Option 3:

Computing – Components of a computer.

Research the different components that make up a computer and explain their roles.

If you have access to an old, unusable computer, you could even dismantle it and observe the different components under adult supervision.

All homework should be completed to the best of your ability and handed in prior to the last phase assembly of the half-term.
